

Pottery

Paul's open studio pottery classes continue year-round. He works with students individually and in groups to create pottery items. Earthenware as well as stoneware items can be created on the wheel or by hand-building (pinch, coil, & slab). To sign up, contact Paul Craighead at 770-843-5302, rivoletti@netzero.net, or on Facebook.

Mondays 6-8 pm

Weekly price: $18 per person or

$108 for 6 week class

Ages: Teens and Adults

Level: Beginner to Intermediate

Minimum 4, Maximum 10 students

In this class, students will be introduced to low fire red clay also called terra cotta. The class will explore various hand building techniques to make both pottery and sculpture and will utilize the bright colors that can be achieved with low fire clay. Each class will begin with a demonstration on a new topic, followed by ample work time. Students may focus on the day's topic or revisit the topics of a previous week and will have support from the instructor when needed. Firings will be scheduled in advance so students can prepare their work ahead of time.
